THEA AWAD

 Bio

Thea Awad , is a rising Lebanese basketball talent whose dedication and skill have positioned her as a standout player in the Middle East and beyond.

Born on May 5, 2008, Thea Awad has rapidly ascended the ranks of youth basketball. Standing at 172 cm (approximately 5 feet 8 inches), she plays the guard position, demonstrating agility and court awareness beyond her years.

In 2024, she represented Lebanon's U18 national team at the FIBA U18 Women's Asia Cup Division B.

As a guard, Awad is known for her quick decision-making, defensive tenacity, and ability to lead the offense. Her performances at both the club and international levels demonstrate her capacity to excel under pressure and contribute significantly to her team's success.

With her impressive track record and continuous development, Thea Awad is poised to become a key figure in Lebanese women's basketball. Her early achievements suggest a promising future, potentially extending to professional leagues and further international competitions.
